Good afternoon!

Thanks for all the hard work you are putting in during the PARCC testing window! Here’s today’s update:

Remember, these numbers only reflect online testing.

Just a reminder to you, if you are looking for helpful resources during this process, be sure to check out the ISBE Assessment Teacher Resources page and parcc.pearson.com.

If you are involved in the administration of Dynamic Learning Maps (the alternate assessment for students with the most significant cognitive disabilities), here are various resources aimed specifically at test administrators.

I’ve also attached a flyer for some upcoming professional development sessions centered around aligning lessons and units to the learning standards. Location and registration information is included in the flyer.

Thanks for all you do!
