12:20pm Scoring Indicators

At the last meeting the TAC spent a significant amount of time discussing procedures for operationalizing and/or scoring performance on each of the ESSA indicators. While the TAC recommended a similar approach be applied for scoring indicators on the 0-100 scale (i.e., awarding points based on the degree to which a school met a state defined target or expectation for performance) it was clear that the manner in which expectations should be defined (e.g., normative or criterion-referenced) and the implications of this approach for different types of schools would differ by indicator. For this discussion we will play out the recommended definition and scoring approach for each indicator highlighting key issues for TAC consideration. When available, performance distributions (overall and by grade) will be provided to inform discussions regarding the range and consistency of school performance within and across years.

Throughout this discussion we will work to identify those recommendations the TAC would like to include in the Phase 2 report. We understand that some indicators will be more flushed out than others due to the need for additional data or TAC discussion.
