01001A001	Pre-AP English 1	Pre-AP English 1 prepares students for close, critical reading and analytical writing. Students learn to observe small details to arrive at an understanding of the whole and to appreciate authors' choices as they examine how language and conventions are used for both precision and style across a range of literary and nonfiction texts. As writers, students build the foundational skill of crafting complex sentences before moving to well-organized paragraphs and essays. Pre-AP courses follow College Board program requirements that lead to official authorization on Course Ledger. (Available SY 2022-.)	Pre-AP Course	New course.
01002A001	Pre-AP English 2	Pre-AP English 2 builds on Pre-AP English 1 as students apply the routines of close observation, critical analysis, and appreciation of author's craft to a range of nonfiction and literary texts. Students develop an awareness of how poets, playwrights, novelists, and writers of nonfiction use language to serve their unique purposes. Students write analyses based on prose fiction, poetry, and arguments, and they synthesize sources to develop an original argument. Pre-AP courses follow College Board program requirements that lead to official authorization on Course Ledger. (Available SY 2022-.)	Pre-AP Course	New course.

02154A001	Business Math	Business Mathematics courses provide students with mathematical competencies in business applications and intended for those studying business, finance, or other related business careers. Topics include mathematical competencies such as arithmetic, measurement, statistics, ratio and proportion, exponents, formulas, and equations that are applied to business problems and situations. Applications might include wages, hourly rates, payroll deductions, sales, margins, receipts, accounts payable and receivable, financial reports, discounts, interest, business analysis and decision making, and debt decisions and implications. (Available SY 2023-.)	CTE Course	New course.
02301A000	High School Math 1	Math 1 involves the study of linear and exponential functions (with domains in the integers), including application and interpretation of statistics and real-world situations. Students reason about functions and the number and nature of solutions to equations, systems of equations, inequalities and systems of inequalities. Students define congruence using transformational geometry. Students apply transformations to linear, exponential, piece-wise, absolute value, square root and cube root functions. They explore these function types represented algebraically, graphically, numerically in tables, and by verbal descriptions. (Available SY 2014-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
02302A000	High School Math 2	Math 2 involves the study of quadratic and exponential functions represented algebraically, graphically, numerically in tables and by verbal descriptions. Students write equivalent radical, rational and quadratic expressions to reveal information using properties of exponents, completing the square, and/or factoring. Students define similarity using transformational geometry and use this definition to prove geometric theorems. Students learn and apply trigonometric ratios, the Pythagorean Theorem and the relationship between sine and cosine to solve problems. Students recognize, calculate and use conditional probability and independence. (Available SY 2014-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
02303A000	High School Math 3	Math 3 involves the study of polynomial, rational, logarithmic and trigonometric functions represented algebraically, graphically, numerically in tables and by verbal descriptions. Students write equivalent polynomial, rational, trigonometric and logarithmic expressions to reveal information and key features. Students make geometric constructions and apply geometric concepts and trigonometric ratios to describe, model and solve problems. Students distinguish among sample surveys, experiments and observational studies to determine and interpret data. (Available SY 2014-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
02134A000	IB Further Mathematics	IB Further Mathematics courses prepare students to take the International Baccalaureate Further Mathematics exam. Designed to advance students' knowledge of IB Mathematics, course topics include linear algebra; geometry; statistics and probability; sets, relations and groups; calculus; and discrete mathematics. (Available SY 2011-.)	IB Course	Course archived. No replacement course available.
02131A000	IB Mathematical Studies	IB Mathematical Studies courses prepare students to take the International Baccalaureate Mathematical Studies exam at the Subsidiary or Higher level. Intended to provide students with the skills to cope with the mathematical demands of a technological society, course topics include linear, quadratic, and exponential functions, solutions, and graphs; skills in computation, estimation, and development of algorithms; data analysis, including collection, calculation, and presentation of statistics; set operations and logic; business techniques, including progressions and linear programming; and geometry and trigonometry. (Available SY 2011-.)	IB Course	Course archived. No replacement course available.

02132A000	IB Mathematics	IB Mathematics courses prepare students to take the International Baccalaureate Mathematics exams at the Subsidiary or Higher level. Topics include operations and properties of number sets; trigonometric functions, equations, and graphs; algebra and coordinate geometry; simultaneous linear equations; polynomial and quadratic functions and equations; calculus, including bilinear, exponential and logarithmic functions; two dimensional vectors and matrices; and probability. (Available SY 2011-.)	IB Course	Course archived. No replacement course available.
02133A000	IB Mathematics and Computing—SL	IB Mathematics and Computing—SL courses prepare students to take the International Baccalaureate Mathematics and Computing exam at the Subsidiary level. Designed to give students a working knowledge of a high level programming language and sound mathematical training, course topics include operations and properties of number sets; trigonometric functions, equations, and graphs; algebra and coordinate geometry, including simultaneous linear equations, binomial theorem, and polynomial and quadratic functions and equations; calculus; vectors and matrices; and numerical analysis. The courses also contain components on computer problem solving and programming; topics regarding computer hardware, software, modes of operation, and data types and structures. (Available SY 2011-2020.)	IB Course	Course archived. No replacement course available.
02052A001	Pre-AP Algebra 1	Pre-AP Algebra 1 is designed to deepen students' understanding of linear relationships. Students create and use mathematical models to understand and explain authentic scenarios, use evidence to craft, prove, or disprove mathematical conjectures, and learn to represent mathematical concepts in a variety of forms. Key concepts are organized into units focused on linear functions and linear equations, systems of linear equations with inequalities, quadratic functions, and exponent properties and exponential functions. Pre-AP courses follow College Board program requirements that lead to official authorization on Course Ledger. (Available SY 2022-.)	Pre-AP Course	New course.
02056A001	Pre-AP Algebra 2	Pre-AP Algebra 2 is designed to optimize students' readiness for college-level mathematics classes. Algebra 2 extends the conceptual understanding of and procedural fluency with functions and data analysis that students developed in their previous mathematics courses. It offers an approach that concentrates on the mathematical content and skills that matter most for college readiness. Key concepts are organized into units focused on modeling with functions, the algebra of functions, function families, and trigonometric functions. Pre-AP courses follow College Board program requirements that lead to official authorization on Course Ledger. This course is not yet available for students until the 2022-2023 school year. (Available SY 2022-.)	Pre-AP Course	New course.
02079A001	Pre-AP Geometry with Statistics	Pre-AP Geometry with Statistics is designed to provide students with a meaningful conceptual bridge between algebra and geometry to deepen their understanding of mathematics. Students create and use mathematical models to understand and explain authentic scenarios, use evidence to craft, prove, or disprove mathematical conjectures, and learn to represent mathematical concepts in a variety of forms. Key concepts are organized into units focused on measurement in data, tools and techniques of geometric measurement, measurement in congruent and similar figures, and measurement in two and three dimensions. Pre-AP courses follow College Board program requirements that lead to official authorization on Course Ledger. (Available SY 2022-.)	Pre-AP Course	New course.

03155A000	AP Physics B	AP Physics B courses are designed by the College Board to parallel college-level physics courses that provide a systematic introduction to the main principles of physics and emphasize problem-solving without calculus. Course content includes mechanics, electricity and magnetism, modern physics, waves and optics, and kinetic theory and thermodynamics. (Available SY 2011-2020.)	AP Course	Course archived. No replacement course available.
03160A000	IB Physical Science	IB Physical Science courses prepare students to take the International Baccalaureate Physical Science exams at either the Subsidiary or Higher level. These courses integrate the study of physics and chemistry, showing how the physical and chemical properties of materials can be explained and predicted in terms of atomic, molecular, and crystal structures and forces. In keeping with the general aim of IB Experimental Sciences courses, IB Physical Science courses promote critical analysis, prediction, and application of scientific information and hypotheses; improved ability to communicate scientific ideas; and an awareness of the impact of science and scientific advances upon both society and issues of ethical, philosophical, and political importance. Students are required to develop and pursue an individual, experimental project, which is evaluated as part of the IB exam. (Available SY 2011-2020.)	IB Course	Course archived. No replacement course available.
53203A000	IB Sciences, Middle Years Program	International Baccalaureate (IB) Sciences, Middle Years Program courses provide to students a body of knowledge and an understanding of the scientific approach to problem solving. It may be organized as biology, chemistry, and physics, or as an integrated sciences course. The course requires students to formulate hypotheses, design and carry out experiments to test them, and evaluate results. (Available SY 2012-.)	IB Course	Updated course. System changes. 03056A001	Pre-AP Biology	Pre-AP Biology emphasizes the integration of content with science practices. Students engage in analytical reading and writing to gain, retain, and apply scientific knowledge and engage in scientific argumentation, they make strategic use of mathematics, and they construct, refine, and evaluate models to explain key patterns, interactions, and relationships in biological systems. Key concepts are organized into units focused on ecological systems, evolution, cellular systems, and genetics. Pre-AP courses follow College Board program requirements that lead to official authorization on Course Ledger. (Available SY 2022-.)	Pre-AP Course	New course.
03106A001	Pre-AP Chemistry	Pre-AP Chemistry emphasizes the integration of content with science practices. Students engage in analytical reading and writing to gain, retain, and apply scientific knowledge and to engage in scientific argumentation, they make strategic use of mathematics, and they construct, refine, and evaluate models to connect macroscopic observations to structure, motion, and interactions occurring at the atomic scale. Key concepts are organized into units focused on the structure and properties of matter, chemical bonding and interactions, chemical quantities, and chemical transformations. 04052A001	Pre-AP World History and Geography	Pre-AP World History and Geography emphasizes investigative practices of historians and geographers by asking students to interact with primary and secondary sources as they evaluate evidence, explain historical and geographic relationships, and incorporate evidence in their own arguments. Key concepts are organized by units, beginning with geography and world regions followed by three historical periods. Schools select either Pathway 1, which includes developments in world history from the ancient period through c.1450 CE, or Pathway 2, which includes developments in world history from c. 1450 CE through the present. Pre-AP courses follow College Board program requirements that lead to official authorization on Course Ledger. (Available SY 2022-.)	Pre-AP Course	New course.

10019A001	AP Computer Science Principles (CTE)	AP Computer Science Principles (CTE) courses are an approved part of career and technical education program that follow the College Board's suggested curriculum designed to parallel college-level computer science principles courses with an additional focus on preparing for a career in computer science. AP Computer Science Principles courses introduce students to the fundamental ideas of computer science and how to apply computational thinking across multiple disciplines. These courses teach students to apply creative designs and innovative solutions when developing computational artifacts. These courses cover such topics as abstraction, communication of information using data, algorithms, programming, the Internet, and global impact. The appropriate use of technology and industry-standard equipment is an integral part of this course. (Available SY 2023-.)	AP and CTE Course	New course.
10108A001	Network Security	Network Security courses provide students with an understanding of network security principles and implementation in computer and information technology field. Course topics usually include authentication, the types of attacks and malicious code that may be used against computer networks, the threats and countermeasures for e-mail, Web applications, remote access, and file and print services. These courses may also cover a variety of security topologies as well as technologies and concepts used for providing secure communication channels, secure internetworking devices, intrusion detection systems, and firewalls. 18403A002	Advanced Agricultural Construction	Advanced Agricultural Construction courses include an integrated way to learn geometry through the application in construction. The structural concepts within the course are organized to complement the skills and the knowledge learned in geometry lessons. Students will experience working days on a job site or technical project, as well as classroom experiences, focused on the development and review of geometry concepts. On working days, students will collaborate to build anything from sawhorses and modular furniture to manufactured housing and tiny homes. The course will provide students the opportunity to immediately apply what they are learning about geometry to their projects and buildings. Participation in FFA student organization activities and Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE) projects is an integral course component for leadership development, career exploration, and reinforcement of academic concepts. 18105A003	Advanced Veterinary Science	Advanced Veterinary Science prepares students for careers in the field of animal science and veterinary medicine. Students will attain academic skills related to animal systems, animal industry workplace practices, and develop knowledge of the animal industry. Students will be placed in a variety of settings to assist in various medical applications and procedures. Students will be exposed to a wide range of scientific principles, such as genetics, anatomy, physiology/nutrition, disease, pests, and management practices. The scientific processes of observation, measurement, hypothesizing, data gathering, interpretation, analysis, and application are a focus. Career opportunities and related post-secondary programs are explored and examined. Learning activities are varied, with classroom, laboratory, hands-on activities, and field experiences emphasized. 22151A003	Secondary Transitional Experience Program (CTE)	This course code should be used for students participating in a STEP program that are also participating in assigned Career and Technical Education (CTE) courses. If the STEP program is not connected to a CTE program, the code 22151A002 should be used instead. STEP is a program approved by ISBE and provided by the DHS Division of Rehabilitation Services (DHS/DRS) that helps schools provide mandated transition services. These courses provide a built-in linkage to DHS/DRS, an agency that can assist students with disabilities with their post-school employment and career development goals. The program provides work experiences that coincide with post-secondary employment goals that could include paid employment or internships. This allows students to gain school credit towards graduation, while gaining hands-on work experience, with as-needed support services. The program also promotes the provision of the following Pre-employment Transition Services (per WIOA - the Workforce Innovation and Improvement Act):a. Job Exploration Counseling,b. Workplace Readiness Training,c. Counseling on Post-Secondary Education, d. Instruction in Self-Advocacy, ande. Work-Based Learning Experiences. Participation in the Secondary Transition Experience Program may include classroom activities as well, involving further study of the Pre-Employment Transition Services topics. Thus, STEP can be offered in combination with miscellaneous vocational courses such as: 22151A000 Career Exploration, and 22152A000 - Employability Skills. (Available SY 2023-.) 24959A001	African Languages Conversation and Culture	African Languages Conversation and Culture courses provide students with an introduction to an African language (including, but not limited to: Swahili, Yoruba, Oromo, Hausa, Igbo, Amharic) and the culture(s) of African language-speaking people, placing greater emphasis on speaking and listening skills while deemphasizing writing and reading the language. (Available SY 2022-.)		New course.
24958A001	African Languages Field Experience	African Languages Field Experience courses place students in environments in which they interact with native specific African language speakers, typically in settings where the specific African language (including, but not limited to: Swahili, Yoruba, Oromo, Hausa, Igbo, Amharic) is the main language spoken. This course enables students to strengthen their skills in exchanging (speaking/listening and writing/reading), interpreting (reading, listening, and viewing), and presenting information and their ability to interact in culturally appropriate ways. (Available SY 2022-.)		New course.
24957A001	African Languages for Native Speakers	African languages for Native Speakers courses prepare native and heritage speakers to communicate in an African language (including, but not limited to: Swahili, Yoruba, Oromo, Hausa, Igbo, Amharic) in all modes. These courses reinforce and expand students' skills to interpret (read, listen, view) and present (speak, write) information at the same level as they exchange (speak and listen; read and write) information, concepts, and ideas on a variety of topics. African Languages for Native Speakers courses advance students' understanding of the relationships among the products, practices, and perspectives of the countries and cultures in which the specific African language is used. (Available SY 2022-.)		New course.
24952A001	African Languages I	Designed to introduce students to an African language (including, but not limited to: Swahili, Yoruba, Oromo, Hausa, Igbo, Amharic) and culture, African Languages I course prepare students to communicate authentically in interpreting (reading, listening, viewing), exchanging (speaking and listening; reading and writing), and presenting (speaking, writing) information on a variety of topics in an African language. They introduce the relationships among the products, practices, and perspectives of the countries and cultures in which the specific African language is used. (Available SY 2022-.)		New course.
24953A001	African Languages II	African Languages II courses build upon skills developed in African Languages I, preparing students to communicate authentically in an African language (including, but not limited to: Swahili, Yoruba, Oromo, Hausa, Igbo, Amharic) by interpreting (reading, listening, viewing), exchanging (speaking and listening; reading and writing), and presenting (speaking, writing) information on concrete topics. 06248A000	Germanic Language Conversation and Culture	Germanic Language Conversation and Culture courses provide students with an introduction to a Germanic language not otherwise described (e.g., Dutch or Flemish) and the culture(s) of the people, placing greater emphasis on speaking and listening skills while de-emphasizing writing and reading the language. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06247A000	Germanic Language Field Experience	Germanic Language Field Experience courses place students in an environment in which they interact with native speakers, most typically in a setting where a Germanic language (e.g., Dutch or Flemish) is the main language spoken. Students strengthen their language skills (reading, writing, listening, and speaking) and increase their ability to interact naturally. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06246A000	Germanic Language for Native Speakers	Germanic Language for Native Speakers courses support, reinforce, and expand students' knowledge of their own tongue not otherwise described (e.g., Dutch or Flemish). Because students understand at least the rudiments and structure of the language and have a working vocabulary (to a greater or lesser degree), Germanic Language for Native Speakers courses often move faster than do regular Germanic Language courses and emphasize literary development (with a study of literature and composition). These courses may also include the culture or history of the people and introduce translation skills. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06241A000	Germanic Language I	Designed to introduce students to a Germanic language not otherwise described (e.g., Dutch or Flemish) and culture, Germanic Language I courses emphasize basic grammar and syntax, simple vocabulary, and the spoken accent so that students can read, write, speak, and understand the language at a basic level within predictable areas of need, using customary courtesies and conventions. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06242A000	Germanic Language II	Germanic Language II courses build upon skills developed in Germanic Language I, extending students' ability to understand and express themselves in a Germanic language not otherwise described (e.g., Dutch or Flemish) and increasing their vocabulary. Typically, students learn how to engage in discourse for informative or social purposes, write expressions or passages that show understanding of sentence construction and the rules of grammar, and comprehend the language when spoken slowly. Students usually explore the customs, history, and art forms of appropriate people to deepen their understanding of the culture (s). (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06243A000	Germanic Language III	Germanic Language III courses focus on having students express increasingly complex concepts both verbally and in writing while showing some spontaneity. Comprehension goals for students may include attaining more facility and faster understanding when listening to the language spoken at normal rates, being able to paraphrase or summarize written passages, and conversing easily within limited situations. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06244A000	Germanic Language IV	Germanic Language IV courses focus on advancing students' skills and abilities to read, write, speak, and understand the Germanic Language being studied so that they can maintain simple conversations with sufficient vocabulary and an acceptable accent, have sufficient comprehension to understand speech spoken at a normal pace, read uncomplicated but authentic prose, and write narratives that indicate a good understanding of grammar and a strong vocabulary. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06245A000	Germanic Language V	Germanic Language V courses extend students' facility with the language so that they are able to understand, initiate, and sustain general conversations on topics beyond basic survival needs. Reading and writing tasks will usually include all normal verb tenses (present, past, and future). (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.

06847A000	Indic Language Field Experience	Indic Language Field Experience courses place students in an environment in which they interact with native speakers, most typically in a setting where an Indic language (e.g., Hindi, Urdu, Panjabi, and Romany) is the main language spoken. Students strengthen their language skills (reading, writing, listening, and speaking) and increase their ability to interact naturally. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06846A000	Indic Language for Native Speakers	Indic Language for Native Speakers courses support, reinforce, and expand students' knowledge of their own tongue (e.g., Hindi, Urdu, Panjabi, and Romany). Because students understand at least the rudiments and structure of the language and have a working vocabulary (to a greater or lesser degree), Indic Language for Native Speakers courses often move faster than do regular Indic Language courses and emphasize literary development (with a study of literature and composition). These courses may also include the culture or history of the people and introduce translation skills. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06841A000	Indic Language I	Designed to introduce students to an Indic language (e.g., Hindi, Urdu, Panjabi, and Romany) and culture, Indic Language I courses emphasize basic grammar and syntax, simple vocabulary, and the spoken accent so that students can read, write, speak, and understand the language at a basic level within predictable areas of need, using customary courtesies and conventions. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06842A000	Indic Language II	Indic Language II courses build upon skills developed in Indic Language I, extending students' ability to understand and express themselves in an Indic language (e.g., Hindi, Urdu, Panjabi, and Romany) and increasing their vocabulary. Typically, students learn how to engage in discourse for informative or social purposes, write expressions or passages that show understanding of sentence construction and the rules of grammar, and comprehend the language when spoken slowly. Students usually explore the customs, history, and art forms of appropriate people to deepen their understanding of the culture (s). (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06843A000	Indic Language III	Indic Language III courses focus on having students express increasingly complex concepts both verbally and in writing while showing some spontaneity. Comprehension goals for students may include attaining more facility and faster understanding when listening to the language spoken at normal rates, being able to paraphrase or summarize written passages, and conversing easily within limited situations. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06844A000	Indic Language IV	Indic Language IV courses focus on advancing students' skills and abilities to read, write, speak, and understand the Indic Language being studied so that they can maintain simple conversations with sufficient vocabulary and an acceptable accent, have sufficient comprehension to understand speech spoken at a normal pace, read uncomplicated but authentic prose, and write narratives that indicate a good understanding of grammar and a strong vocabulary. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06845A000	Indic Language V	Indic Language V courses extend students' facility with the language so that they are able to understand, initiate, and sustain general conversations on topics beyond basic survival needs. Reading and writing tasks will usually include all normal verb tenses (present, past, and future). (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.

06849A000	Indic Literature	Indic Literature courses place an emphasis on reading, understanding, and reacting in writing to literature written in an Indic language (e.g., Hindi, Urdu, Panjabi, and Romany). (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06688A000	Iranian/Persian Language Conversation and Culture	Iranian/Persian Language Conversation and Culture courses provide students with an introduction to an Iranian/Persian language (e.g., Persian, Kurdish, and Pashto) and the culture(s) of the people, placing greater emphasis on speaking and listening skills while de-emphasizing writing and reading the language. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06687A000	Iranian/Persian Language Field Experience	Iranian/Persian Language Field Experience courses place students in an environment in which they interact with native speakers, most typically in a setting where an Iranian/Persian language (e.g., Persian, Kurdish, and Pashto) is the main language spoken. Students strengthen their language skills (reading, writing, listening, and speaking) and increase their ability to interact naturally. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06686A000	Iranian/Persian Language for Native Speakers	Iranian/Persian Language for Native Speakers courses support, reinforce, and expand students' knowledge of their own tongue (e.g., Persian, Kurdish, and Pashto). Because students understand at least the rudiments and structure of the language and have a working vocabulary (to a greater or lesser degree), Iranian/Persian Language for Native Speakers courses often move faster than do regular Iranian/Persian Language courses and emphasize literary development (with a study of literature and composition). These courses may also include the culture or history of the people and introduce translation skills. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06681A000	Iranian/Persian Language I	Designed to introduce students to an Iranian/Persian language (e.g., Persian, Kurdish, and Pashto) and culture, Iranian/Persian Language I courses emphasize basic grammar and syntax, simple vocabulary, and the spoken accent so that students can read, write, speak, and understand the language at a basic level within predictable areas of need, using customary courtesies and conventions. (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06682A000	Iranian/Persian Language II	Iranian/Persian Language II courses build upon skills developed in Iranian/Persian Language I, extending students' ability to understand and express themselves in a Iranian/Persian language (e.g., Persian, Kurdish, and Pashto) and increasing their vocabulary. Typically, students learn how to engage in discourse for informative or social purposes, write expressions or passages that show understanding of sentence construction and the rules of grammar, and comprehend the language when spoken slowly. Students usually explore the customs, history, and art forms of appropriate people to deepen their understanding of the culture(s). (Available SY 2011-2020.)		Course archived. No replacement course available.
06683A000	Iranian/Persian Language III	Iranian/Persian Language III courses focus on having students express increasingly complex concepts both verbally and in writing while showing some spontaneity. Comprehension goals for students may include attaining more facility and faster understanding when listening to the language spoken at normal rates, being able to paraphrase or summarize written passages, and conversing easily within limited situations.
