SAT School Day Frequently Asked Questions

Where can my child see their SAT[®] scores?

If your child has a College Board online account, they'll receive an email letting them know their scores are ready. Then they can log in at studentscores.collegeboard.org to see their scores and send them to colleges.

Your child's online score report includes detailed information about their test performance, including areas in which they excel and areas in which they may need to continue to develop as they prepare for college. Score reports give students and teachers valuable information to help make sure students will be ready for college-level work once they graduate from high school.

When should students start using Official SAT Practice on Khan Academy[®]?

There's no hard-and-fast rule, but the more time students spend on Khan Academy, the more likely they'll feel well prepared for the SAT.

We recommend that students create their Khan Academy account in the fall of their junior year. If they've taken the PSAT[™] 10, they can use those scores to receive personalized practice for the SAT. If they haven't taken the PSAT 10, they can take a few short quizzes to find out what skills they need to practice. Then they'll have several months to practice before taking the SAT in the spring of their junior year.

Will my child take the Essay this spring through the ISBE-provided SAT School Day administration?

Yes. ISBE continues to include the Essay, as the Essay helps to fully measure the depth and breadth of the Illinois Learning Standards for English Language Arts.

What do colleges look for in an SAT score?

Each college has its own approach and policy when it comes to SAT scores, so be sure to inquire with each college directly. Remember, SAT scores are just one part of a student's college application. Admission officers factor in high school grades and courses, extracurricular activities, application essays, and recommendation letters when making their decision.

When should my child start working on college applications?

Ideally, your child would use part of the summer before their senior year to research colleges, check application deadlines, and create their college list. They can also start working on the personal essay some colleges may require.

START

- Sign up for Official SAT® Practice at satpractice.org. Official SAT Practice on Khan Academy® is FREE for all students and the best way to prepare for the SAT. Created by Khan Academy and College Board, the makers of the SAT, Official SAT Practice offers thousands of practice questions, video lessons, quizzes and tests, and more.
- Link College Board and Khan Academy accounts for a personalized SAT study plan. When your child signs up for Official SAT Practice, make sure their Khan Academy account is linked with their College Board account. This sends your child's PSAT™ 8/9, PSAT™ 10, or SAT scores to Khan Academy to create a customized SAT study plan. A child who doesn't have any test scores can take diagnostic quizzes to receive the study plan.

2-3 MONTHS BEFORE TEST DAY

- Create a practice schedule on Official SAT Practice, and stick to it. We recommend that students practice on satpractice.org 15–30 minutes per day 6–8 weeks before the test.

The PSAT 10 FAQ document includes information on the following:

- Scores
- Benchmarks

CollegeBoard PSAT™ 10

PSAT 10 Frequently Asked Questions

Where can my child see their PSAT™ 10 scores?
Students can see their scores for all the PSAT-related assessments online at studentscores.collegeboard.org. They'll need to create a free College Board online account if they don't already have one.

When will my child's test scores be available?
Students will receive an email at the address associated with their College Board online account when their scores are available.

Do colleges see my child's PSAT 10 scores?
The College Board does not send PSAT 10 scores to colleges.
These scores are not intended to be part of college admission decisions. They should not be included on student transcripts that will be reproduced and sent to colleges unless the student (if 18 or older) or parent/guardian has granted permission.

What information is included in the online score reports?
Score reports give students and teachers valuable information to help make sure students will be ready for college-level work once they graduate from high school.
Online score reports are electronic summaries of students' scores on the PSAT 10 that clearly pinpoint the areas they need to work on most as well as where they're excelling. Students can access these reports by logging in to their College Board online account.

What are the college readiness benchmarks?
Students will see a benchmark for each section of the PSAT 10. Benchmarks are the scores that represent college readiness. In other words, students who score at or above the benchmark are on track to be ready for college when they graduate from high school.
Students who score below the benchmark still have time to work on their skills. The detailed feedback on their online score reports allows students to see which skills need the most improvement.

The PSAT 8/9 Helps Your Child Start the Journey to College

Illinois public school students in grade 9 will take the PSAT™ 8/9 during a school day in the spring of 2023. PSAT 8/9 scores help guide your child's academic progress and provide an early indication of college readiness. The test also helps students and parents/guardians:

Recognize Strengths
Data from the PSAT 8/9 may provide insight into your child's strengths and what skills they should acquire.

Choose High School Courses
Knowing their strengths and what skills they should acquire can help you and your child choose the right classes as they progress through high school. Data from the PSAT 8/9 may help determine whether they're ready for college-level Advanced Placement® (AP) courses starting their sophomore year.

Plan for College:

Search and filter over 3,000 college profiles.

- Search schools which are listed in order of graduation rate.
- Watch videos of real students in partnership with Campus Reel.
- Use the personalized college search based on a student's preferences.

The screenshot shows the 'College Search' page. At the top, there is a search bar with the placeholder text 'Search by college name'. Below the search bar, there are several filter buttons: 'Location: NY', 'Type: (2)', 'Majors', 'Affordability', 'Campus Life', 'Credit', and 'Admissions'. A 'Clear All' button is located to the right of these filters. The main content area is titled 'Explore Colleges' and includes the text 'Results are based on your filters and sorted by graduation rate.' Below this, it says '40 Colleges Found' and 'Sort by'. Three college profiles are visible, each with a thumbnail image and key statistics:

- United States Military Academy → West Point, NY
 - 4-year • Public • Medium • Rural
 - 85% graduation rate
 - Average annual cost after aid not available
 - 1160-1380
- SUNY University at Binghamton → Binghamton, NY
 - 4-year • Public • Large • Suburban
 - 82% graduation rate
 - $17K average per year after aid
 - 1280-1440
- Fashion Institute of Technology → New York, NY

The screenshot shows the 'More About the College' page for New York University. It includes the following information:

- More About the College
- Description: 'New York University is a 4-year, private school. This coed college is located in a large city in an urban setting and is primarily a residential campus. It offers certificate, associate, bachelors, masters, and doctoral degrees.'
- College Board Code: 2562
- Application Types Accepted: Online through colleges own website
- Fee Waiver Info: Available to all qualified students. Visit the college website for details.

Below the text is a video player with the title 'Stuff No One Tells You About NYU | Academics, Ca...'. Underneath the video player, there are 'More Videos' with thumbnails and titles:

- Stuff No One Tells You About NYU | Academics,
- VLOG | Day in the Life of an NYU Student
- how I got into nyu
- HOW I GOT INTO NYU TISCH FILM - my experience

At the bottom right, there is an 'Add to List' button.

The screenshot shows a 'My College Preferences' dialog box. It features a central illustration of a college building. The text reads:

Answer a few questions so we can show you better College Matches.

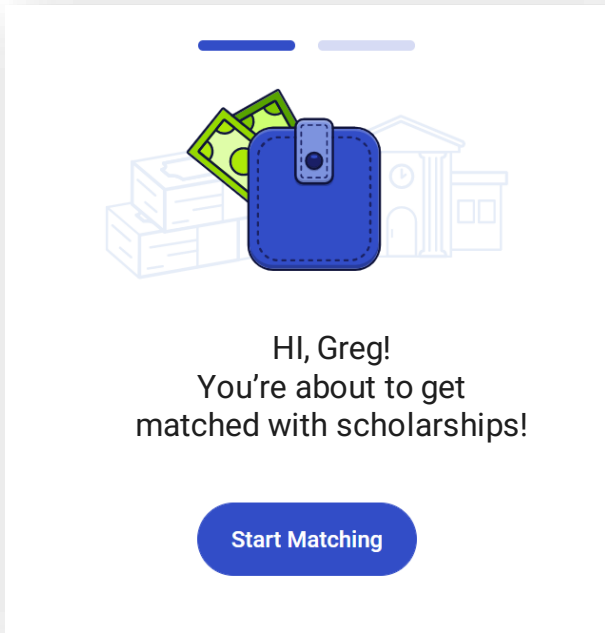

Let us know what you're looking for and we'll show you a list of colleges that offer what you want.

At the bottom, there are two buttons: 'Run my own search' and 'Match me with colleges'.

The screenshot shows the BigFuture mobile app interface. At the top, it says 'CollegeBoard' and 'Sign In'. The main heading is 'College Search' with a search icon and a heart icon. Below this is the text 'Find the right college for you.' and 'Choose a category to start exploring.' There are four category buttons: 'Location', 'Majors', 'Type', and 'Campus Life'. At the bottom, there is a navigation bar with the URL 'bigfuture.collegeboard.org' and a 'Top' button.
