Significant Legal History

- Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, 1964
  - Prohibits discrimination on the grounds of race, color, or national origin by recipients of federal financial assistance.
  - The Title VI regulatory requirements have been legally interpreted to prohibit denial of equal access to education because of a language minority student's limited proficiency in English.
Significant Legal History

- Lau v. Nichols Court Case, 1974
  - Case dealt with San Francisco school system’s failure to provide English language instruction to 1,800 students of Chinese ancestry.
  - U.S. Supreme Court unanimously ruled that a lack of supplemental instruction for ELs denies them a meaningful opportunity to participate in education programs, which violates the Civil Rights Act of 1964.
Significant Legal History

- Equal Educational Opportunities Act (EEOA), 1974
  - Prohibits states from denying equal educational opportunity to an individual on account of his or her race, color, sex, or national origin.
  - The statute specifically prohibits states from denying equal educational opportunity by the failure of an education agency to take appropriate action to overcome language barriers that impede equal participation by its students in its instructional programs.
“There is no equality of treatment merely by providing students with the same facilities, textbooks, teachers, and curriculum; for students who do not understand English are effectively foreclosed from any meaningful education.”

—Justice William Douglas
Legal Obligations

- U.S. Department of Education’s Office of Civil Rights (OCR) and the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) share enforcement authority.
- Issued joint guidance in 2015 to help states, districts, and schools meet legal obligations to ELs.
- Guidance identifies 10 common civil rights issues for ELs.
Providing a Language Assistance Program
Chapter 2: Providing English Learners With a Language Assistance Program

KEY POINTS

• EL services and programs must be educationally sound in theory and effective in practice.

• EL programs must be designed to enable ELs to attain both English proficiency and parity of participation in the standard instructional program within a reasonable length of time.

• LEAs must offer EL services and programs, until ELs are proficient in English and can participate meaningfully in educational programs without EL support.

• Additionally, LEAs must provide appropriate special education services to ELs with disabilities who are found to be eligible for special education and related services.

Pause and Reflect

- On which educational theory(ies) are our program options based?
- How are placement in an EL program and provision of services informed by a student’s English proficiency level and education background?
- How do we ensure that students in our TBE program are receiving native language supports?
- Do we have qualified staff to implement our EL program(s)?
Pause and Reflect

- How are our school and district services and programs providing intensive instruction for those furthest from English proficiency?
- How are ELs at the highest levels of the program continuing to receive services until they meet English proficiency?
- What additional EL services and programs are available for ELs who have not made expected progress?
- What criteria are we using to evaluate our program and determine if it is meeting its goals?
