

Collaboration for Healthy and Thriving Students

Frequently Asked Questions

Question: Are all services after-school or can supportive services be provided during the school day for current after-school participants?

Answer: The purpose of the Collaboration for Healthy and Thriving Students is to enhance the current services being provided, therefore, the enhancement of services should occur during your regularly scheduled programming.

Question: Can you submit one application that spreads services to multiple current 21st CCLC sites?

Answer: Yes, you may spread services to multiple current 21st CCLC sites. However, please keep in mind the purpose is to provide enhanced and exemplary services which may or may not be possible at multiple sites.

Question: What is the distinction between the standards and the target section of the NOFO?

Answer: The Performance Measures are the highest tier of achievement. The target is what an applicant is expected to achieve each quarter. The Performance Standard is the minimum level of achievement. If an applicant does not meet the standard, the applicant may be put into remediation or removed from the project.

Question: If there are no high schools in your district, does the graduation rate requirement still apply?

Answer: The performance standards that are applicable to your program would apply.

Question: For planning purposes, is the source of these funds state, federal, or other?

Answer: The source of these funds is the Mott Foundation.

Question: What data sources are required for measures of academic achievement?

Answer: Data sources include PARCC, SAT, student grades, etc.

Question: We are a 501c3 that works with schools to implement 21CCLC programs that were funded in FY15. Are we restricted to working with only those sites for this new funding opportunity?

Answer: The Collaboration for Healthy and Thriving Students is for Cohort 13 and Cohort 15 21st CCLC sites.

Question: We work with 4 schools on our 21CCLC programming, do we have to apply with all four sites for this funding, or can we select fewer to focus on for this funding?

Answer: Grantees may choose which sites that are currently being funded to work with, however, the purpose of the Collaboration for Healthy and Thriving Students is to provide enhanced and exemplary services to students.

Question: Could the proposal be written to serve students across multiple grants served by the same entity?

Answer: Yes, you may spread services across multiple grants (as long as they are FY13 or FY15). However, the purpose is to provide enhanced and exemplary services which may or may not be possible at multiple sites.
