Importance of Civics Education

Research indicates that students who receive a well-rounded civics education are more likely to become active and engaged members of their communities. Illinois has strengthened its emphasis on civics education across middle and high school classrooms.

Civics education at both grade bands must include the following content:

- Government institutions
- Discussion of current and societal issues
- Service learning
- Simulations of the democratic process

Recommendations

The Campaign for the Civic Mission of Schools recommends the following proven practices in providing quality civics education.

Classroom Instruction

Service-Learning

School Governance

Discussion of Current Events and Controversial

Extracurricular Activities

Simulations of Democratic Processes

High School

Beginning with students entering 9th grade in 2016, students shall receive one semester of civics education, to help students acquire and learn to use the skills, knowledge, and attitudes that will prepare them to be competent and responsible citizens throughout their lives.

Middle School

Beginning in 2020, every public school student shall receive one semester of civics education in 6th, 7th, or 8th grade to help students acquire and learn to use the skills, knowledge, and attitudes that will prepare them to be competent and responsible citizens throughout their lives.
