In the Land of Lincoln, you’ll find this Presidential figure around every corner. From extensive academic resources to accessible site visits, Abraham Lincoln’s physical presence in the State of Illinois presents dynamic opportunities for us to engage with this legendary figure.

DID YOU KNOW? The Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum offers an online collection of resources for teachers, including hands-on activities, vocabulary, research topics, critical thinking questions, and references to additional resources. Check out the website “Under His Hat” (http://underhishat.alplm.org/) for materials to accommodate classroom use at various grade levels.

DATE: 1858
ARTICLE: “A HOUSE DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF CANNOT STAND”

DATE: 1861
ARTICLE: “LINCOLN’S NEW WHISKERS”

DATE: 1944
ARTICLE: “WARTIME SPEECH FOR OUR TIMES”

K–5

STANDARDS

ELA STANDARDS
- K–5 Reading 1–3: Key ideas and details
- K–5 Reading 7: Using illustrations to describe key ideas
- K–5 Writing 1 and 2: Writing opinion and informational text
- K–5 Writing 4–9: Produce and share information
- K–5 Speaking and Listening 1: Collaborative conversations
- K–5 Speaking and Listening 4–6: Presentation of knowledge and ideas

SOCIAL SCIENCE STANDARDS
- SS.CV.1.K: Describe roles and responsibilities of people in authority.
- SS.H.2.K: Explain the significance of our national holidays and the heroism and achievements of the people associated with them.
- SS.H.2.1: Describe individuals and groups who have shaped a significant historical change.
- SS.H.2.2: Compare individuals and groups who have shaped a significant historical change.
SS.H.2.3: Describe how significant people, events, and developments have shaped their own community and region.

SS.H.2.4: Using artifacts and primary sources, investigate how individuals contributed to the founding and development of Illinois.

ACTIVITIES

• It’s All in a Hat: Use a Lincoln hat to collect or draw artifacts, objects, and symbols that represent moments in Illinois history, taking inspiration from the timeline. To do this, have students take turns identifying a moment from the timeline and identify the significance of that event or moment. Students should then select or draw an artifact, object, or symbol to represent the moment, which can be added to the hat. This could be done at regular intervals or on a schedule.

• Create a Lincoln Exhibition: While learning about the life and legacy of Abraham Lincoln, have students gather or create artifacts or symbols of his Presidency and use these as the basis for curating an exhibit on Lincoln. The exhibition may include text introductions to artifacts, verbal presentations, or living museum figures all coordinated to summarize why Lincoln is one of the most memorable Presidents of all time.

• Integrating the Arts: Abraham Lincoln had many nicknames before, during, and after his Presidency—among them were Honest Abe, The Great Emancipator, The Ancient One, and The Rail-Splitter. Determine what events or characteristics attributed to these nicknames and present your findings in an artistic rendering, such as a drawing, painting, cartoon, sculpture, avatar, or video.

6–12

STANDARDS

ELA STANDARDS
6–12 RH and RI 1–3: Key ideas and details
6–12 RH and RI 7–9: Integration of knowledge and ideas
6–12 W and WHST 1 and 2: Writing argument and informational text
6–12 W 3: Writing narrative text
6–12 W and WHST 7–9: Research to build and present knowledge

SOCIAL SCIENCE STANDARDS

SS.IS.8.6–8.MdC: Assess individual and collective capacities to take action to address problems and identify potential outcomes.

SS.H.4.6–8.MC: Organize applicable evidence into a coherent argument about the past.

SS.H.3.9–12: Evaluate the methods utilized by people and institutions to promote change.

SS.H.7.9–12: Identify the role of individuals, groups, and institutions in people’s struggle for safety, freedom, equality, and justice.
ACTIVITIES

For older students, the complexity of Lincoln’s speeches and character can be more fully explored. Here are a few starting points to begin discussing concepts of agency, authority, and identity.

- “Translate” a section of an historical speech into contemporary language.
- Adapt the Gettysburg Address, or portions of it, to present across social media platforms.
- Extract quotes from Lincoln’s speeches to show how sound bites and info bites can be used in different contexts, by more than one party, and with divergent intentions.
- Study how Abraham Lincoln evolved politically throughout his life using primary sources, such as quotes and speeches, to note changes.
- Take a classroom vote on a controversial topic to identify a baseline. Write motivational speeches to convince your classmates to change their vote. Cast a second ballot following the presentations and evaluate what was effective in various speeches and why.
- Determine a topic which divides the country today and make suggestions on what type of leadership, actions, and persuasive techniques would be required to unite us. Present your own Plan of Action or draft your own “Gettysburg Address” to persuade the nation.
By our politics editor
June 17, 1858

SPRINGFIELD LAWYER
Mr. Abraham Lincoln, a Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate, yesterday delivered the speech of a great statesman that will resound across America as a warning of the threat to the Union over the slavery debate.

Using words from the Bible, Mr. Lincoln made clear his opposition to expanding slavery into new U.S. territories and spoke of a looming crisis that would pass only after it has been resolved once and for all.

“A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this government cannot endure, permanently half slave and half free,” he said. “I do not expect the Union to be dissolved—I do not expect the house to fall—but I do expect it will cease to be divided. It will become all one thing, or all the other.”

He added: “Either the opponents of slavery will arrest the further spread of it, and place it where the public mind shall rest in the belief that it is in course of ultimate extinction; or its advocates will push it forward, till it shall become alike lawful in all the States, old as well as new—North as well as South.”

Mr. Lincoln was, in effect, laying down a challenge to the nation: that we, its citizens, must now decide which route we are to go down. His speech, made in the Illinois State Capitol in Springfield, has been acclaimed by abolitionists and Republican supporters. Some were saying last night that Mr. Lincoln has shown he has the qualities needed to become a great U.S. President.

Reaction in the southern “Slave States” is unlikely to be positive. Some are already warning of seceding from the Union and the risk of civil war if men like Mr. Lincoln ever get to hold national office. Mr. Lincoln is due to embark on a series of debates across Illinois with U.S. Senator Stephen Douglas, the Democratic incumbent. The slavery issue is certain to be high on the agenda.

A German version of Mr. Lincoln’s speech is also to be printed in Alton for the State’s German-speaking residents.

---

Mr. Lincoln’s New Whiskers

PRESIDENT-ELECT Lincoln yesterday stopped on his inaugural journey by train from Illinois to Washington, D.C. and met an old friend—a 12-year-old girl, writes our politics correspondent, February 17, 1861.

The meeting between Mr. Lincoln and Miss Grace Bedell took place in her hometown of Westfield, New York. Onlookers were surprised to hear him look for the little girl and ask for her by name.

Miss Bedell had written to Mr. Lincoln last year urging him to grow a beard. Her letter read: “I hope you won’t think me very bold to write to such a great man as you are…If you let your whiskers grow…you would look a great deal better for your face is so thin.” Mr. Lincoln wrote back that never having worn any whiskers, people might think it a “silly affectation” to start now. He signed it “Your very sincere well wisher.”

---

TOMB RAIDERS FOILED

By our crime correspondent
November 8, 1876

AFIENDISH PLOT to steal the late President Lincoln’s body and ransom it for $200,000 was foiled by detectives yesterday.

Members of an Illinois gang are on the run after failing to make off with the remains of the President who was assassinated in Washington, D.C., over a decade ago. The gang traveled to Oak Ridge Cemetery in Springfield, where the President’s body is laid to rest and is now considered a shrine to liberty.

They sawed a padlock off the iron door of his tomb, prized the marble lid off his sarcophagus, and attempted to lift the coffin. The theft was thwarted when Lewis G. Swegles, an undercover secret service agent who had been unwittingly recruited by the gang, alerted detectives hiding nearby. They rushed to the tomb, guns drawn, but the robbers escaped.

Gang leader “Big Jim” Kinealy is said to have hatched the plot to steal the President’s body until $200,000 in gold was paid by the U.S. government and an imprisoned gang member freed.

Sources said last night it was not the first time Kinealy had planned such a raid. The previous attempt did not get off the ground after drunken gang members revealed details of the plot in Springfield.

The latest incident is certain to increase calls for the President’s body to be buried rather than kept in a sarcophagus.
By our politics editor
June 17, 1858

SPRINGFIELD LAWYER
Mr. Abraham Lincoln, a Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate, yesterday delivered the speech of a great statesman that will resound across America as a warning of the threat to the Union over the slavery debate.

Using words from the Bible, Mr. Lincoln made clear his opposition to expanding slavery into new U.S. territories and spoke of a looming crisis that would pass only after it has been resolved once and for all. “A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this government cannot endure, permanently half slave and half free,” he said. “I do not expect the Union to be dissolved—I do not expect the house to fall—but I do expect it will cease to be divided. It will become all one thing, or all the other.”

He added: “Either the opponents of slavery will arrest the further spread of it, and place it where the public mind shall rest in the belief that it is in course of ultimate extinction; or its advocates will push it forward, till it shall become alike lawful in all the States, old as well as new—North as well as South.”

Mr. Lincoln was, in effect, laying down a challenge to the nation: that we, its citizens, must now decide which route we are to go down. His speech, made in the Illinois State Capitol in Springfield, has been acclaimed by abolitionists and Republican supporters. Some were saying last night that Mr. Lincoln has shown he has the qualities needed to become a great U.S. President.

Reaction in the southern “Slave States” is unlikely to be positive. Some are already warning of seceding from the Union and the risk of civil war if men like Mr. Lincoln ever get to hold national office. Mr. Lincoln is due to embark on a series of debates across Illinois with U.S. Senator Stephen Douglas, the Democratic incumbent. The slavery issue is certain to be high on the agenda.

A German version of Mr. Lincoln’s speech is also to be printed in Alton for the State’s German-speaking residents.

A HOUSE DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF CANNOT STAND

TOMB RAIDERS FOILED

By our crime correspondent
November 8, 1876

A FIENDISH PLOT to steal the late President Lincoln’s body and ransom it for $200,000 was foiled by detectives yesterday.

Members of an Illinois gang are on the run after failing to make off with the remains of the President who was assassinated in Washington, D.C., over a decade ago. The gang traveled to Oak Ridge Cemetery in Springfield, where the President’s body is laid to rest and is now considered a shrine to liberty.

They sawed a padlock off the iron door of his tomb, pried the marble lid off his sarcophagus, and attempted to lift the coffin. The theft was thwarted when Lewis G. Swegles, an undercover secret service agent who had been unwittingly recruited by the gang, alerted detectives hiding nearby. They rushed to the tomb, guns drawn, but the robbers escaped.

Gang leader “Big Jim” Kinealy is said to have hatched the plot to steal the President’s body until $200,000 in gold was paid by the U.S. government and an imprisoned gang member freed.

Sources said last night it was not the first time Kinealy had planned such a raid. The previous attempt did not get off the ground after drunken gang members revealed details of the plot in Springfield.

The latest incident is certain to increase calls for the President’s body to be buried rather than kept in a sarcophagus.

Mr. Lincoln’s New Whiskers

PRESIDENT-ELECT Lincoln yesterday stopped on his inaugural journey by train from Illinois to Washington, D.C. and met an old friend—a 12-year-old girl, writes our politics correspondent, February 17, 1861.

The meeting between Mr. Lincoln and Miss Grace Bedell took place in her hometown of Westfield, New York. Onlookers were surprised to hear him look for the little girl and ask for her by name.

Miss Bedell had written to Mr. Lincoln last year urging him to grow a beard. Her letter read: “I hope you won’t think me very bold to write to such a great man as you are…If you let your whiskers grow…you would look a great deal better for your face is so thin.” Mr. Lincoln wrote back that never having worn any whiskers, people might think it a “silly affectation” to start now. He signed it “Your very sincere well wisher.”

Despite his doubts, he took the advice, and grew a beard while in Springfield. At yesterday’s meeting, Mr. Lincoln stooped down and kissing Miss Bedell, said: “Gracie, look at my whiskers. I have been growing them for you!”

Mr. Lincoln is also an inventor, having a patent granted, for re-floating boats in shallow waters using his “Improved Method of Lifting Vessels over Shoals.”
WARTIME SPEECH FOR OUR TIMES

YOUNGSTERS BUY A PIECE OF HISTORY TO INSPIRE LEADERS OF TODAY

By our education editor
March 25, 1944

Schoolchildren have proudly presented a rare copy of the Gettysburg Address written in President Lincoln’s own hand to Illinois State officials at a ceremony in Springfield yesterday.

One of five hand-written copies of the speech, the President completed it at the request of Mr. Edward Everett, the former U.S. Secretary of State, who then sold it to help soldiers injured in the Civil War.

Thousands of Illinois children raised $50,000 to buy the “Everett copy” which had just become available. With jars sited in classrooms for collections, they donated an average of five cents apiece, often sacrificing their allowances. Mr. Marshall Field III, the department store heir, made up the remainder by donating $10,000.

The Gettysburg Address was delivered by President Lincoln during the Civil War, at the dedication of the Soldiers’ National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

As freedom and democracy are now under threat in a world war, its inspiring words—that government “of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth”—are as relevant today as they were when first delivered in 1863. It seems the children of Illinois have shown that they can appreciate these fine words just as well as any adult.

HIROSHIMA ATOM BOMB DROPPED BY QUINCY PILOT

By our war correspondent
August 7, 1945

The atomic bomb that destroyed the Japanese city of Hiroshima yesterday was dropped from the B-29 Superfortress Enola Gay, piloted by Col. Paul Tibbets, born in Quincy, Illinois. The devastation caused by the single bomb called “Little Boy,” dropped by Col. Tibbets and his crew, is so severe that exact casualty figures may never be known.

It is understood tens of thousands were killed in the explosion, and many more are certain to die as a result of their wounds, starvation or the new horror of war from atomic weapons—radiation poisoning.

Many of those killed or injured are believed to be civilians, although Hiroshima had a military garrison.

The nuclear attack was so overwhelming that military chiefs believe it must surely compel Japan to surrender, which would bring to an end WWII following the collapse of Germany and Italy.

A Japanese surrender will avoid the need for Allied troops to mount what many predict would otherwise be an extremely bloody invasion of the country.

Col. Tibbets, who graduated from Alton’s Western Military Academy, is among nearly one million Illinoisans who have served during World War II, of whom 22,000 have been killed.

The bomber, Enola Gay, was named by Col. Tibbets for his mother.

Japanese Americans, released from internment camps in the Pacific Coast area, flock to wartime Chicago, and are hired by companies desperate for labor. Many return to the Pacific Coast after WWII, but the Chicago community survives to this day.

War heroes

Orchard Field Airport is renamed O’Hare International Airport in 1949, to honor the bravery of Edward “Butch” O’Hare, the Navy’s WWII flying ace and Medal of Honor recipient, who later died in action.

Passengers will discover that boarding passes are still coded with the letters ORD—a throwback to Orchard Field.

Later, Silvis is home to Hero Street USA, famous for having more people serving in the military than any other comparable street in the nation.

Japanese Americans, released from internment camps in the Pacific Coast area, flock to wartime Chicago, and are hired by companies desperate for labor. Many return to the Pacific Coast after WWII, but the Chicago community survives to this day.