

High School Students Taking Community College Courses School Year 2010-2011 Report

To comply with Section 2-3.144 of the Illinois School Code, as well as with Sections 10-21.4 or 34-8, high school and unit district superintendents are required to complete and submit to the Illinois State Board of Education an annual survey that documents the number of high school students taking community college courses and the names of the courses taken.

For school year 2010-2011, 463 high school and unit districts completed and submitted the High School Students Taking Community College Courses survey from April through September 2011. Among these reporting districts, 74 districts reported that no students took community college courses and the remaining 389 districts reported that 34,867 students took courses offered by the community colleges. Of the 630,520 high school students included in the 2010-2011 fall enrollment counts, approximately 5.5 percent took courses offered by the community colleges. Appendix A provides data on the number of students, by gender and race/ethnicity, in each of the districts where students enrolled in community college courses.

High school and unit districts reported a total of 49 Illinois community colleges that offered courses to their high school students. The number of high school students who took courses from these community colleges ranges from 3 students at the Olive-Harvey City College in Chicago to 6,429 students at the Joliet Junior College in Joliet. Among the 49 community colleges, approximately 33 percent (19 colleges) offered courses to more than 500 high school students. Nine community colleges, including all seven Chicago city colleges, Morton College in Cicero, and Illinois Eastern Community Colleges in Olney, offered courses to fewer than 100 high school students during school year 2010-2011. Appendix B lists these community colleges, along with the number of enrolled high school students, by gender and race/ethnicity.

There were 30 community college courses taken by 34,867 high school students, with many of the students taking more than one course. Therefore, districts recorded 55,571 course enrollment counts for the 30 courses. The number of students taking each of these courses ranges from 4 students taking the library science course to 10,329 students taking the computer and information science course. Approximately 63 percent (19 courses) of the 30 courses served more than 500 high school students each; five courses were taken by fewer than 50 students. Appendix C lists the course names and the number of enrolled high school students, by gender and race/ethnicity.
