After-school meals serve a critical need for hungry children in Illinois. Many schools and organizations already serve snacks or meals in their after-school programs yet they are doing this out of their own cost. Reimbursements are available to serve free snacks and meals to children in eligible after-school programs through the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) At-Risk After-School Meals Program. In this webinar, learn how you can start or expand your after-school meals program through CACFP At-Risk and become a stable source of nutrition in your community. Topics covered will include:

- General CACFP At-Risk program information
- Eligibility, application, administration and reporting requirements for:
 - o Potential new sponsors or sites
 - o Schools offering snacks through the CACFP or National School Lunch Program (NSLP) looking to transition to offering meals
 - o SFSP sponsors looking to offer meals year-round through CACFP
 - Best practices and tools for implementation and outreach
 - Resources and grant opportunities

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the webinar. Brought to you by GoToWebinar® Webinars Made Easy®
